Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of TMG approves sale of shares in Keesing Media Group

During the Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders (EGM) of Telegraaf Media Groep N.V. (TMG) held today, the proposal to sell the shares in the Keesing Media Group (Keesing) to Ergon Capital Partners III N.V. (Ergon) and the retention of an indirect minority interest of 30% in Keesing was approved. The affected Works Councils of TMG and Keesing issued positive recommendations on this matter earlier this week. This allows the share transaction to be finalised. TMG will use the net cash flow from this transaction in the amount of approximately € 130 million to fully repay the bank credit facilities. In addition, the transaction provides space for financing business operations and the future plans for core activities and brands. By retaining a minority interest in Keesing, TMG benefits from the roll-out of the Keesing buy and build, and digital strategy in the new situation.

The agreed upon valuation of 100% of the Keesing enterprise amounts to € 150 million (enterprise value, debt and cash free). The net cash flow from the transaction for TMG amounts to approximately € 130 million (with due consideration to a reinvestment for the 30% interest, the scope of financing the partnership and on the basis of Keesing's bank balance as at 30 June). TMG has formulated solid agreements concerning its position as a minority shareholder and with its seat on the Supervisory Board remains closely involved in Keesing.

The sale of the shares in Keesing is beneficial for all parties concerned. It enables Keesing to fully focus on its core activities, fully exploit its growth potential and further expand its international successes. TMG becomes debt-free, is able to invest in the future plans for its core activities and brands, continues to be involved with Keesing and can benefit from the roll-out of the buy and build, and digital strategy.
